

THE FIRST TO QUALIFY

ART KLEIN IN A FRONTENAC.

When the first trials for the 1920 500-mile race were started at the Speedway yesterday Art Klein, driving a Frontenac, was the first to report and he sent his bus whirling around the course for an average of 92.7 miles per hour for the necessary four laps.

Klein is one of the most popular pilots at the Speedway and he received congratulations on all sides when his fast average was announced.

Art said yesterday that the race Monday would be his last. His wife asked him to retire after the coming event and he will follow her wishes.

He plans to go in business on the Pacific coast after the 1920 sweepstakes, and he certainly is out to grab off as much of the big prize money Monday as it is possible to win.
