Penalties

SEC. 3. If such report is not made and so filed within the period prescribed in section 1 of this act, or if such original or certified copy of resolutions or decree is not filed as required by section 2 of this act, the corporation so failing to report or to file such resolution shall forfeit to the state fifty ($50.00) dollars, to be recovered with costs in an action in the name of the state, to be prosecuted by the attorney-general. If such report be not made and filed, or if such resolution be not filed, as herein provided, all of the directors of any such corporation who shall wilfully neglect or who shall refuse to comply with the provisions hereof, and who shall be in office during any such default, shall at the time appointed for the next election, and for a period of one year thereafter, be thereby rendered ineligible for election or appointment to any office in such corporation; but no director shall be thus disqualified for the failure to make and file such report if he shall file with the secretary of state before the time appointed for holding the next election of directors after such default, a certificate stating that he has endeavored to have such report made and filed, setting forth specifically the efforts made by him in that behalf, and shall report the items required to be stated in such annual report so far as they are within his knowledge, or are obtainable from sources of information open to him, verified to him to be true to the best of his knowledge, information and belief. When it shall appear from the records of the office of the secretary of state that any corporation liable for the filing of the reports required by section 1 of this act has failed to file such reports for three consecutive years, the secretary of state shall certify such fact to the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the corporation has its principal place of business. Upon receipt of such certification by the prosecuting attorney of any county, the prosecuting attorney shall forthwith file in the circuit court or superior court of the county a petition praying for a decree that such corporation shall have no further legal rights, except as hereinafter provided, upon the grounds that such corporation is delinquent in its annual reports as specified in this act. Upon hearing had by the court upon said petition, if the court finds that said annual reports have not been filed with the secretary of state for three consecutive years, as alleged in said petition, and no satisfactory reason for failing to make such reports has been shown by such corporation, the court shall enter a decree to that effect and shall forthwith file with the secretary of state a certified copy of such decree. When a certified copy of such decree is received by the secretary of state, the secretary of state shall forthwith, and by virtue of the receipt of said certificate, declare that such corporation shall have no further legal rights, except for the purpose of dissolution, as provided by law. [Excerpt from Act approved February 26, 1907, as amended, Acts of 1925, Chapter 57.]
