

Tour to End Today.

Today will mark the end of the reliability tour started last Monday from Detroit, and which, when completed, will have covered 1,900 miles through the middle West. Seventeen planes made up the original flotilla.

The principal officials yesterday included Odie A. Porter, chief timer for the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, assisted by Bert Coffin, Burt Westover, Thomas Murray and Myron Tatlock. Fred Duesenberg was chief judge, with Louis Chevrolet, J. S. Bray and G. A. Efroymsen assisting. The list of checkers included Dan W. LeGore, Kirk McKinney, E. L. Cothrell, Bowman Elder, C. B. Durham, Charles Binkley, Everett Holloway, Chester Henry, M. M. Andrews and Fred Tucker.

The reception committee was headed by Frank S. Fishback, president of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, and Frank E. Gates, president of the Indianapolis Real Estate Board. Arrangements for the landing and