

Famous Old-Timers—Louis Chevrolet (left), who designed and built the first of millions of cars bearing his name, returned to Flint to participate in the old-timers' celebration at Ballenge's park today. At '61, Chevrolet likes to indulge in reminiscences, but has retired from the motor speedways where he gained national fame for many years. With him is Seth Klein, official starter for the Indianapolis race track, who drove the former speed king to Flint.
