NEARLY LOSES RACING CAR, THEN WINS RACE

Driver Pleads With Sheriffs Who Hold Attachment Papers.

GIVES DIAMOND SECURITY

The attachment of William Jeffries, colored race driver, for his Frontenac racing car proved greater than attachment papers in the hands of the seputy sheriffs Wednesday afternoon and Jeffries was permitted to retain cossession of his speed chariot until 100-mile race had been run at the tate fairground track in a Fourth of the program.

Jeffries's faith in his car proved ustified, for he won the race and each prize which now may serve to set him out of his financial difficul-

Deputy Sheriffs Dixon and Mann yent to the fairground, armed with ttachment papers after suit was filed in municipal court against Jeffries by Chevrolet Brothers, on a note for $250 and a repair bill of $154. As the deputies started to take possession of Jeffries' racer, the driver pleaded that he be allowed to keep the car just long enough to win the race.

The tears in his eyes failed to move the hard-boiled deputies, but when Jeffries pulled from his finger a diamond ring, with a stone of large proportions, they relented and took the ring as surety in the attachment proceedings. Experts said the ring was worth from $1,000 to $3,000.
